

DELETHIA "DEE" S. CROSBY

Biography

Delethia "Dee" S. Crosby is a former Health Services Business Management professional for Fairfax County. She performed a wide range of professional work, including analysis and project management, for over 25 years. Dee supervised an administrative and paraprofessional staff; performed a variety of technical and professional work related to monitoring and reporting on departmental business processes, activities, and outcomes. She planned, developed, and implemented comprehensive communication and education plans on programs and services for both county agencies and community organizations.

She assisted with developing and conducting special studies and research initiatives by designing survey instruments, gathering data and information from department staff, developing data analysis tools, conducting statistical analyses, literature reviews. Dee conducted analysis and reports of quantitative and qualitative data to track and monitor various business process indicators.

Dee served as the point-person and liaison within the department and with central county departments regarding designated programs and functional areas of responsibility; she prepared reports and presentations of analysis and findings. She maintained close communications with medical leadership and directors.

She is a graduate of South Carolina State University class of 1980, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology.

Dee resides in the Northern Virginia area and enjoys spending time with family, reading, and cooking.